INSANELY GOOD
Juicers

Cold Press is Best

Slow-speed, cold press juicing delivers the most nutrient-rich juice possible. The lower RPM process produces less heat which helps to preserve vital nutrients and enzymes. With cold press juicing, your body doesn't have to break down food to get the nutrients – so you immediately get a rush of healthy, invigorating energy with your first sip!

Cold Press vs Centrifuge

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

COLD PRESS

- Operates at a lower RPM, with less heat and oxidation to preserve maximum nutrients & enzymes
- Significantly quieter noise level
- Less foam
- Food types include fruits, vegetables, celery, and all leafy greens
- Pulp comes out virtually dry allowing for more juice yield

CENTRIFUGE

- Operates at a higher RPM, with higher temperatures and greater oxidation causing loss of nutrients & enzymes
- Higher noise level
- More foam
- Food types include fruits and vegetables
- Pulp is ejected with greater wetness leading to lessened juice yield

Crushing Power

Omega's masticating technology with triple-stage auger allows ingredients to be squeezed and crushed more thoroughly, resulting in dryer pulp and a higher juice yield. The powerful three-stage auger also extracts the maximum amount of nutrients, vitamins, and taste from minimum amounts of fruits, vegetables, and greens.

Quiet Operation

A lower RPM doesn't just mean more nutrient-rich juice, it also operates with significantly less noise than high speed juicers.
